[Special Dispatch to the Gazette.] Acceptance by Mr. Breckinridge of the Nomination for President.

WASHINGTON, July 9 .- The following is the correspondence attending the acceptance of the Hon. John C. Breckinridge. DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION, Baltimore, (Md.) June 23, 1860. Sir: I am directed by the vote of the Democratic National Convention to inform you that you have been this day unanimously nominated by it as the candidate of the Democratic party for the office of President of the United States, and in their behalf to request you to accept the nomination. I beg leave at the same time to enclose to you a copy of the resolutions adopted by the Convention as the political platform on which the party stands.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully: C. CUSHING, President.

Hon. J. C. Breckinridge. WASHINGTON, July 6, 1860.—DEAR SIR: I have your letter of the 23d ultimo, by which I am officially informed of my nomination for the office of President of the United States by the Democratic National Convention lately assembled at Baltimore.

The circumstances of this nomination will justify me in referring to its personal aspect. I have not sought nor desired to be placed before the country, for the office of President. When my name was presented to the Convention at Charleston, it was withdrawn by a friend in obedience to my expressed wishes. My views had not changed when the Convention reassembled at Baltimore: and when I heard of the differences which occurred there, my indisposition to be connected prominently with the canvass was confirmed, and expressed to many friends.

Without discussing the occurrences which preceded the nominations, and which are or soon will be well understood by the country, I have only to say that I approved, as just and necessary to the preservation of the national organization and the sacred right of representation, the action of the Convention over which you continued to preside and thus approving it, and having resolved to sustain it. I feel that it does not become me to select the position I shall occupy, nor to shrink from the responsibilities of the post to which I have been assigned. Accordingly I accept the nomination from a sense of public duty, and, as I think, uninfluenced in any degree by the aliurements of ambition. I avail myself of this occasion to say that in this modified and improved form, can hardly be the confidence in my personal and public character implied by the action of the Convention will always be gratefully remembered; and it is but just also to my own feelings to express my gratification at the association of my name with that of my friend General To the above, we offer to those who may prefer it, Lane, a patriot and a soldier, whose great services in the field and in council entitle him to the gratitude and confidence of his countrymen.

The resolutions adopted by the Convent have my cordial approval. They are just Per Ships "Conquest," "Juliette," "Tattar," and | to all parts of the Union -to all our citizens. others, expected to arrive at this port, during the native and naturalized, and they form a

Whatever the common Government holds in trust for all the States must be enjoyed equally by each. It controls the Territories Per "Judge Blaney," "Rachael Jane" "Leni," and in trust for all the States. Nothing less than sovereignty can destroy or impair the rights of persons or property. The Territorial Governments are subordinate and temporary, and not sovereign; hence they cannot destroy or impair the rights of persons or property. While they continue to be Territories they are under the control of Congress, but the Constitution newhere confers on any branch of the Federal Government the power to discriminate against the rights of the States or the property of their citilow as they can be bought in any market in the zens in the Territories. It follows that the citizens of all the States may enter the Territories of the Union with their property of land California Mail of the 18th ultimo has whatever kind, and enjoy it during the Ter- arrived. ritorial condition, without let or hindrance either by Congress or by the subordinate Territorial Governments. These principles flow directly from the absence of sovereignty in the Territorial Governments and from the equality of the States. Indeed they are essential to that equality which is and ever has been the vital principle of our constitutional Union. They hold the doctrine of non-intervention by Congress or by a Territorial Legislature either to establish or prohibit slavers; but they assert (fortified by the highest tribunal in the Union) the plain duty of the Federal Government, in all its departments, to secure, when necessary, to order, the citizens of all the States, the enjoyment of their property in the common Territories, as every where else within its jurisdiction. The only logical answer to this would seem to be to claim sovereign power for the Territories, or to denv that the Constitution recognises property in the services of negro slaves, or to deny that such property can exist.

Inexorable logic, which works its steady way through clouds and passion compels the country to meet the issue. There is no evasive middle ground. Already the signs multiply of a fanatical and growing party which denies that under the Constitution, or by any other law, slave property can exist, and ultimately the struggle must come between this party and the National Democracy, sus- a rather down look, approaching to sulkiness. tained by all the other conservative elements in the Union.

The Constitution and the Equality of the States! These are symbols of everlasting Union. Let these be the rallying cries of the people.

I trust that this canvass will be conducted without rancor, and that temperate arguments will take the place of hot words and passionate accusations. Above all, I venture humbly to hope that Divine Providence, to whom we owe our origin, growth, and all our prosperity, will continue to protect our beloved country against all danger, foreign and domestic.

I am, with great respect, your friend, JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE. Hon, C. Cusning, President of the Democratic National Convention.

proverbially healthy, cases of malarious fever being unknown upon it. The farm contains 650 ACRES, of which about 250 are woodland, well timbered with oak of an original growth. The arable land, (em' racing 70 acres of fertile river bottom, free frem overflow) is in a high state of cultivation, being well set in clover and grasses, and finely adapted to wheat, corn, oats, and tobacco. A crop averaging thirty bushels of wheat to the acre was harvested, two years since, by the late owner. The place is abundantly supplied with springs and water coursesis under good fences, and has on it a thrifty erchard of young and choice fruit trees. Its mineral advantages are deemed attractive; the land lying directly in the range of, and contiguous to the most lucrative gold mines of Virginia, and abounding in extensive beds of iron ore, which, considering the facilities of mining it, and the advantages of a fine water power on the place, could be rendered very valuable. The improvements are new, substantial, and conveniently arranged. The DWELLING is of brick, covered with slate, two stories high, with two large parlors, a hall thirteen feet wide, dining room, five capacious chambers, and a finished basement. The out-houses consist of a large barn,
